1. Anti-money laundering and counter-terrorism financing

---

In 2006 the Australian Federal Government enacted the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (AML/CTF Act). The purpose of this legislation is to enable Australia's financial sector to maintain international business relationships, detect and prevent money laundering and terrorism financing by meeting the needs of law enforcement agencies and to bring Australia into line with international standards.

1.1 Why does the AML/CTF Act affect GIAM

GIAM is a 'reporting entity' pursuant to the AML/CTF Act and as such must meet stringent investor identification and verification requirements. This means that prior to issuing units in the Life Settlements Wholesale Fund (Fund) to an investor, GIAM must be 'reasonably satisfied' the investor exists and the investor is who they claim to be.

1.2 How does this affect you?

As a result of GIAM's requirements under the AML/CTF Act, all prospective investors of the Fund are required to provide GIAM with the necessary information it needs in order to sufficiently identify the investor and verify the investor is who they claim to be.

The information you need to provide will depend on what type of investor you are. The types of investors are set out in section 2 of this Handbook.

2. Requirements for investors

---

2.1 Types of investors

This Handbook applies to non-Australian resident investors, including—

- (a) individuals (including sole traders)
- (b) partnerships
- (c) companies, including—
  - (i) non-Australian companies registered by Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC), and
  - (ii) companies not registered by ASIC

- (d) trusts established in a country other than Australia (including registered schemes, platforms, IDPS, regulated trusts, pension/superannuation funds and government superannuation funds), and
  - (e) associations
  - (f) registered co-operatives, and
  - (g) government bodies.

The information you will need to provide to GIAM depends on whether you have previously invested in the Fund or another managed investment scheme operated by GIAM (Existing Investor) or whether you are a new investor seeking to invest either directly in the Fund or indirectly through a financial planner or adviser (New Investor).

QUICK REFERENCE GUIDE

If you are an Existing Investor	Go to section 2.2
If you are a New Investor	Go to section 2.3

2.2 Existing Investors

If you are able to demonstrate you are an Existing Investor, then you do not need to provide GIAM with any identification and verification documentation.

To indicate you are an Existing Investor you must complete the “Existing Investor” section of the application form in the Fund’s product disclosure statement and provide your account name and number.

Notwithstanding the above, GIAM may at its discretion require you to provide any relevant identification and verification documentation which it deems necessary having regard to its ongoing obligations under the AML/CTF Act.

2.3 New Investors

If you are a New Investor, then you must complete the appropriate identification checklist in this booklet depending on your investor type and provide GIAM with the identification and verification documentation requested in the checklist.

QUICK REFERENCE GUIDE

If you are an individual	Go to Schedule 1
If you are a company	Go to Schedule 2
If you are a trust	Go to Schedule 3
If you are a partnership	Go to Schedule 4
All other New Investors	Go to section 2.4

2.4 Other New Investors

In the event you do not fall within one of the categories listed in the ‘Quick Reference Guide’ for New Investors above (for instance, you are investing as an association), then please contact GIAM on telephone number +61 7 5557 4700, facsimile number +61 7 5591 4375 or email admin@lifeselementsfund.com to discuss the identification and verification documentation which must be provided by you.

3. Certification of documents

3.1 What is a certified copy (of an original document)?

A certified copy of a document is a copy that has been certified as a true copy of an original document by a person who is authorised by law to do so.

3.2 What is a certified extract?

A certified extract is an extract that has been certified as a true copy of some of the information contained in a complete original document by one of the people described in section 3.3 below.

3.3 Who can certify documents?

GIAM will accept documents certified by the following people (outside Australia):

- (a) A legal practitioner holding a current practising certificate (or equivalent) in the investor’s country of residence.
- (b) An authorised financial planner/financial adviser i.e., an officer with a financial services company, which is licensed to provide financial services by the relevant government regulatory body in the investor’s country of residence, with two or more year’s continuous service with one or more licensed financial services companies.

- (c) A judge, registrar or deputy registrar of a court.
  - (d) A magistrate.
  - (e) A chief executive officer of a Commonwealth court only.
  - (f) A justice of the peace.
  - (g) A notary public.
  - (h) A police officer.
  - (i) An Australian consular officer or an Australian diplomatic officer (as described in section 3.4 below).

3.4 Who is an Australian consular officer or an Australian diplomatic officer?

Australian consular officers and Australian diplomatic officers will generally be located in the Australian embassy, high commission, consulate, multilateral mission or representative office (such as a commerce and industry office) in your country of residence. The following people in Australian representative offices have the authority to certify documents:

- (a) Consul-General.
- (b) Consul.
- (c) Vice-Consul.
- (d) Trade Representative.
- (e) Consular Agent.
- (f) Ambassador.
- (g) High Commissioner.
- (h) Minister.
- (i) Head of a Mission.
- (j) Commissioner.
- (k) Chargé d’Affaires.

- (l) Counsellor, Secretary or Attaché at an embassy, high commissioner's office, legation or other post.

Please note, the Australian representative office you attend may charge a fee for certifying your documents.

3.5 What is included in a certified extract?

- (a) For partnerships—either of the following must be provided:
- (i) A certified extract of the original partnership agreement which contains—
    - A. the full name of the partnership
    - B. the full business name (if any) of the partnership
    - C. the full names of each individual member of the partnership, and
    - D. the execution pages of the partnership agreement.
  - (ii) A certified extract of minutes of a partnership meeting which contains—
    - A. the full name of the partnership
    - B. the full business name (if any) of the partnership
    - C. the full names of each member of the partnership, and
    - D. the full names of each member of the partnership who attended the meeting.
- (b) For trusts—the following must be provided:
- (i) The full name of the trust.
  - (ii) The type of trust (e.g., unit trust or discretionary trust).
  - (iii) A list of the beneficiaries of the trust.
  - (iv) The execution page of the trust deed.

4. Frequently asked questions

4.1 What will GIAM do with the information you provide?

GIAM will maintain all information collected from investors in a secure manner in accordance with the AML/CTF Act and relevant privacy principles. GIAM will only disclose information about you where it reasonably considers it is required to do so by the laws of Australia.

Where required by law, GIAM may disclose your information to regulatory or law enforcement agencies, including the Australian Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre, which is responsible for regulating the AML/CTF Act. If GIAM does disclose your information to regulatory or law enforcement agencies, under the AML/CTF Act it is prevented from informing you that such reporting has taken place.

GIAM may also disclose this information to other entities involved with the Fund, to the extent that this information is required to fulfil that entity's anti-money laundering obligations.

4.2 What happens if GIAM is not reasonably satisfied with the documentation you provide?

In order to comply with its obligations under the AML/CTF Act, GIAM has implemented a number of measures and controls to carefully identify and monitor investors. As a result of those measures, if GIAM is not reasonably satisfied you exist and you are who you claim to be, then—

- (a) transactions may be delayed, blocked, frozen or refused
- (b) where transactions are delayed, blocked, frozen or refused GIAM will not be liable for any loss you suffer (including consequential loss) as a result of GIAM's compliance with the AML/CTF Act, and
- (c) GIAM may require additional information from you to assist in the verification process.

4.3 Who can translate documents?

The AML/CTF Act requires all translations of documents to be carried out by an "accredited translator".

All translations should be carried out by a translator accredited with the national translation accreditation body in your country and hold sufficient qualifications as a translator.

If translation of documentation is required, then Schedule 5-Accredited translator details form must be completed and submitted to GIAM with the relevant identification/verification checklist. GIAM reserves the right to refuse to accept a translation if it is not satisfied the translator who undertook the translation is sufficiently qualified.
